ALPHAVILLE	Sounds Like A Melody (Grant & Kelly Remix by Blank & Jones x Gold & Lloyd)	Special unreleased new mix for Record Store Day 2020 created by original band members Marian Gold and Bernhard Lloyd together with Blank & Jones. For the first time Bernhard Lloyd worked with Marian Gold in the studio again since he left Alphaville in 2003. Only original parts from the 1984 multi track tapes were used, no additional instruments. The name "Grant & Kelly Remix" results from a line in the second verse of the song: "...Like the Cary Grants and Kellys once before..." Blank & Jones work closely with the band since 2013 on various projects like "so80s (so eighties) Reconstructions pres. Alphaville" and the "Forever Young - Super Deluxe Edition". Ambros/Tauchen/Prokopetz	Der Ur-Watzmann (RSD20)	"Der Watzmann ruft" ist eines der legendärsten Alben der österreichischen Popgeschichte. Entstanden 1974, ist es ein Mittelding aus Song-Kollektion, Hörspiel und Musical - Autor Manfred Tauchen und die Mitstreiter Wolfgang Ambros und Joesi Prokopetz nannten es selbst "Rustical". Das hat mit dem Szenario zu tun: ein alpines Bergbauern-Drama vor der Kulisse der Alpen. Nicht ganz ernst gemeint, aber wirkungsvoll: bislang wurden über 250.000 Exemplare des denkwürdigen Hörstücks verkauft, ab den achtziger Jahren des vorigen Jahrhunderts wurde es im deutschsprachigen Raum immer wieder auch live aufgeführt; für 2020 ist die definitiv letzte Bühnen-Inszenierung mit Wolfgang Ambros geplant. Der Ur-Watzmann, quasi eine erste kürzere Skizze, lief 1972 als Live-Hörspiel auf dem ORF-Popsender Ö3; der Mitschnitt galt lange als unauffindbar. Es darf als kleine Sensation gewertet werden, dass dieses Dramolett nun auf einer limitierten 10 Inch-Schallplatte dokumentiert wurde.	10"	1	SCHALLTER / MONKEY.	AUSTRO POP
America	Heritage II: Demos/Alternate Takes 1971-1976	Contains 11 previously unissued demos and alternate tracks from 1971-1976. • Liner notes by the band's Gerry Beckley • Includes long rumoured 13 minute acoustic jam "Jamerooty." In 2017, Omnivore Recordings released Heritage: Home Recordings/Demos 1970-1973. And now, due to critical and commercial acclaim, we are pleased to announce for Record Store Day 2020, the vinyl release of Heritage II: Demos/Alternate Takes 1971-1976. This collection picks up where the first volume left off, centering mostly on the beginning of the Sir George Martin era. Martin produced seven albums by America and Heritage II focuses in on demos and alternate takes from the Holiday, Hearts, and Hideaway albums from 1974-1976. Hear for the very first time, an unreleased Gerry Beckley song, "Mandy"; demos of songs from Holiday ("What Does It Matter" and "Mad Dog"), outtakes from Hearts ("Simple Life") and alternate mixes from Hideaway ("Amber Cascades" and "Today's The Day"). In addition to these gems, there's a real rarity included herein from 1971, an acoustic instrumental jam by Gerry Beckley, Dewey Bunnell and Dan Peek entitled, "Jamerooty" lasting nearly 13 minutes. Unearthed from the band's archives, this track has been rumored for years but only just found recently. An early '70s soft rock fan's dream come true. This collection spotlights a new direction in the band's sound as Sir George Martin takes the reins and leads them to many more platinum albums and hit records. Please enjoy this alternate walk down memory lane as you immerse yourself in the guilty pleasures of America!	LP	1	Omnivore	Pop

Annihilator	Triple Threat Unplugged	Canadian thrash metal protagonists Annihilator celebrate Record Store Day with a 12" picture disc release of acoustic material previously only available in 2017's Triple Threat CD format (the picture disc is the 2017 release cover art). Titled Triple Threat Unplugged, the 10-cut selection further accentuates the virtuoso skills of founder and leader, Jeff Waters, and were never previously released on vinyl. Joining Waters for the recordings, which took place in his home studio near Ottawa, were band members Aaron Homma and Richard Hinks, Vancouver BC drummer and friend Marc LeFrance plus Ottawa session player Pat Robillard, and the selections (which include "Sounds Good To Me", "Stonewall" and "Phoenix Rising") illustrate the more unique, calmer elements of Annihilator's library, with Waters' guitar as vibrant as ever in this acoustic setting. DAVID BOWIE	I'm Only Dancing (The Soul Tour 74)	I'm Only Dancing - Taken from recently discovered sources in The David Bowie Archive®, I'm Only Dancing (The Soul Tour 74) was recorded mostly during David's performance at the Michigan Palace, Detroit on 20th October, 1974, with the encores taken from the Municipal Auditorium, Nashville on 30th November, 1974. The Soul Tour was a radical mid-tour departure from Bowie's 1974 Diamond Dogs theatrical extravaganza. During a three week break in late 1974, the Diamond Dogs Tour's elaborate six-ton Hunger City stage set was drastically stripped back, and the tour's set list overhauled to include as-yet-unreleased tracks from the Young Americans sessions at Sigma Sound in Philadelphia. The Soul Tour also featured a revamped band, augmented to include musicians and vocalists from those sessions, and rechristened The Mike Garson Band. I'm Only Dancing (The Soul Tour 74) follows on from the previous Record Store Day 2 LP release Cracked Actor (Live Los Angeles '74) and is an incredible historical document of a performer and band at the height of their live powers. The artwork for both the 2 LP and 2 CD releases is based on the original design for the programmes available at venues for dates on The Soul Tour. The Soul Tour has taken a on mythical status among Bowie fans, as the tour only visited 17 cities in the East and South of US. This is the first time that any audio from this incarnation of the tour has ever been officially released.	CD Digipak	2	PLG UK	Pop

The interview and birthday messages do not feature on this album. This mostly acoustic session was a stripped back affair featuring some of David's favourites of his own compositions and was produced by Bowie himself, Reeves Gabrels and Mark Plati. Ennio Morricone	Peur Sur La Ville (OST) (RSD20)	Ennio Morricones Soundtrack für den französischen Film "peur Sur La Ville" aus dem Jahr 1975 wurde zum ersten Mal auf Doppel-Vinyl inklusive einer 2Nd Lp-Prämie neu aufgelegt. Genehmigt von Ennio Morricone und von den Originalbändern neu gemastert mit Liner Notes von den Musikerkollegen Am und Jb Dunckel (Air). Diese Sonderausgabe enthält die 1975 veröffentlichte Originalpartitur sowie eine zweite Vinyl im Wert von Boni, die noch nie auf Vinyl erschienen sind. Dazu gehören zwei Titel, die nach 45 Jahren ihr offizielles Debüt geben. Ennio Morricones Zusammenarbeit mit dem französischen Regisseur Henri Verneuil kommt der des Maestro mit Sergio Leone sehr nahe. Aus dieser fruchtbaren Zusammenarbeit gingen zahlreiche Klassiker hervor, darunter The Sicilian Clan (1969), Le Casse (1971), Le Serpent (1973) und I Comme Icare (1979). Peur Sur La Ville aus dem Jahr 1975 ist wahrscheinlich der Höhepunkt ihrer Zusammenarbeit und zweifellos eine der besten Partituren von Morricone. Der Thriller mit Jean Paul Belmondo war in Frankreich ein großer Blockbuster-Hit, und Morricones Soundtrack wurde ebenso berühmt.	LP	1	WEWANTSOUNDS	SOUNDTRACK

Gruff Rhys	(Don't) Welcome The Plague As A Blessing/ The Babelsberg Basement Files	LP with split coloured black & white vinyl - Early in 2016 Ali Chant texted me, asking if I still wanted to record some stuff at his studio - as property developers were about to knock it down. Another creative space bulldozed away for capital gain. Politically it was a shit year. The noise building for the Brexit referendum that would fuck with the future of the young was in full swing. Bowie died, and on the morning of the first recordings I had the worst migraine. I left the building and threw up in the street. I wanted to commit to the lyrics and sing live so I think I was stressed about getting them ready to sing. I had a batch of songs I wanted to record but I didn't have a record label or any plans of what to do with them. I gathered incredible musicians from my square mile in Cardiff in the van and drove to Bristol. Kliph on drums, Steve on bass and Osian on piano. I sang and played guitar - We recorded live takes for 3 days then I sat on the songs for almost 2 years. Eventually handing them to composer Stephen McNeff to work on orchestral arrangements. I called the album that was mixed by Samur Kouja; Babelsberg - and I'm very happy with it. This album meanwhile is an exploration of how it came to be - and the songs in their raw state. A companion piece rather than the definitive article. Most tracks are similar to the final work except for Selfies in The Sunset which is pre-duet and much longer.	2LP	2	Rough Trade Records	Alternative

MOUTH CONGRESS	AHHH THE POLLUTION	Mouth Congress is a movie about a mid-80s comedy punk band fronted by Paul Bellini and Scott Thompson from The Kids in the Hall. Mouth Congress was very much a 'do it yourself' band, as was the nature of the mid 80s. Both Bellini and Thompson enjoyed this ragtag aesthetic - recording on a tape recorder sitting on a freezer in the basement; putting up xeroxed posters in the neighbourhood; buying costumes at the Salvation Army; using equipment from 20 years earlier. They loved the rough edges, as it fit with their message of self-realization. Whereas The Kids in the Hall was a professionally produced big-budget television show, Mouth Congress was an assembly of brilliant scraps artfully arranged. This is their first single, transparent orange vinyl for RSD.	7"	1	CAPTURED TRACKS	Independent

New Riders Of The Purple Sage	Field Trip (Live) (RSD 2020 Exclusive)	Recorded Live to 16-Track at Temple Meadow in Veneta, Oregon. • Long out-of-print recording Buddy Cage on pedal steel guitar. • Taken directly off the master reels in the NRPS Archive and mastered by David Glasser at Airshow Mastering. • Liner notes by NRPS Historian Rob Bleetstein with rare photos. With Billboard magazine hailing the New Riders Of The Purple Sage as "the definitive band of the country-rock genre," 1972 was a year of major growth for the band. By the time Summer rolled around, Buddy Cage was now firmly entrenched as Jerry Garcia's replacement on pedal steel guitar and their second studio album, Powerglide, was getting rave reviews. On the live front, they were beginning to fill concert halls across the U.S. while continuing to emerge from the shadows of the Grateful Dead with an intoxicating mix of classic and original American songwriting from the worlds of country, rock, bluegrass, and soul. There are also pieces that have never seen a major release but for some reason never fitted on an album. The best of these ideas have been recorded in two sessions - one relating to Red Barked Tree but recorded in 2010 and another relating to Wire's latest album Mind Hive released in 2020, hence the title. ÉTIENNE DAHO	Surf	Karen Dalton; on the terrace, Air have a drink with Smokey Robinson and Roger Waters; while in the kitchen, Audrey Hepburn, Dennis Wilson and Phoenix are considering a trip to the West Coast. No other alchemist could gather such precious gems with such a cohesive result. Surf is indeed much more than a covers album, it is a genuine Daho record with splashes of folk, echoes of soul, psychedelic vibes... Owning his legendary eclectism, the singer has fun letting himself go. He sings eternal classics with respect, envy, love and honesty (I Can't Escape From You, My Girl Has Gone, Moon River), performs and records with sixteen musicians including the David Whitaker strings at Abbey Road (Glad To Be Unhappy), and also rediscovers forgotten gems (the amazing You Choose by the Pet Shop Boys). Daho is of course a pop icon, an idol who performs for ardent fans in sold-out venues, but he is also, just like you and me, a human being. Like us, he loves, falls out of love, hopes, loses himself, gets excited and, at night, alone at home, plays and hums songs that tell stories. With Surf, using the words of other songwriters, Daho reveals himself like never before. He shares his personal playlist, and offers us an intimate record full of glowing beauty and pure melancholy. A friend for our future emotions. (Matthieu Dufour)	LP - Orange	1	Warner Music France	Pop

Mikis Theodorakis	Serpico (OST) (RSD20)	Sonderausgabe des Serpico-Klassiker-Soundtracks von 1973, komponiert von Mikis Theodorakis, der zum ersten Mal seit Jahrzehnten wieder auf Vinyl herausgegeben wird, mit neu gemastertem Ton, Klappcover, Grafiken von Eric Adrian Lee und Ärmelnotizen des Filmkritikers Jason Wood, einschließlich eines speziellen Interviews mit dem Arrangeur Bob James. Sidney Lumets 1973 veröffentlichtes Meisterwerk Serpico ist einer der ikonischsten Filme der 70er Jahre. Mit einer karrierebestimmenden Darstellung von Al Pacino in der Titelrolle ist es ein hervorragender Neo-Noir-Film, der die Post-Watergate-Stimmung der frühen 70er Jahre einfängt. Der Soundtrack des Films von Mikis Theodorakis ist ebenso atemberaubend. Er wurde von dem griechischen Musiker komponiert und vom Kult-Jazz-Pianisten Bob James arrangiert und ist eine hervorragende Mischung aus funky Instrumental- und traditionellen Melodien, die an den Godfather OST erinnern. Family Fodder	Savoir Faire - the best of (Director's Cut)	First time on vinyl. Limited colour vinyl. A 'best of' collection of their series of eccentric post-punk singles and albums between 1979 and 1982. Described as 'entertaining idiosyncratic experimentalism' ('Who's Who of Indie and New Wave'), but they also have very evident pop sensibilities. Best known for their indie-chart hits such as 'Debbie Harry', 'Playing Golf With My Flesh Crawling' and 'Savoir Faire', today they sound like a forerunner of Stereolab. A group of musicians based around songwriter Alig Fodder, with vocals regularly contributed by French chanteuse Dominique Levillain, who met through mutual friends This Heat. This is an edited vinyl version of their 1998 'best of' CD, issued on Douglas Volk's Dark Beloved Cloud label in the USA, with newly concise versions of some lengthier tracks. Since then they've regenerated and have issued new albums on various labels and also on Bandcamp, and had their songs covered by a number of their many artist admirers.	LP	1	Jungle	Indie/New Wave

Hugo Montenegro	Hugo In Wonder-Land (RSD20)	Hugo Montenegro war ein produktiver Komponist und Orchesterleiter, der in den 1960er- und 1970er-Jahren vor allem für die Herstellung dynamischer Film- und Fernsehtonspuren bekannt war. Zusätzlich zu den Originalkompositionen nahm der gebürtige New Yorker auch viele einzigartige Interpretationen zeitgenössischer Werke anderer Künstler auf. 1974 veröffentlichte Montenegro "Hugo In Wonder-Land", seine Interpretation des Katalogs der Musikikone Stevie Wonder. Das Album ist vollständig instrumental und bietet eine völlig neue Perspektive auf die gefeierten Originale von Wonder. Montenegros üppige Arrangements und Moog-lastige elektronische Elemente sorgen für einen genreübergreifenden Klassiker, für den sich Stevie Wonder selbst eingesetzt hat. Nach Jahren der Vergriffenheit ist "Hugo In Wonder-Land" nun wieder auf Vinyl in limitierter Auflage erhältlich.	LP	1	NATURE SOUNDS	FUNK

It's a moving and deeply felt tribute to a misunderstood man, and it's a pleasure to hear these two comrades-in-arms working together again, even if their renewed collaboration was destined to be short-lived." Frank Marino & Mahogany Rush	ReallIVE! Vol. 1 (RSD 2020 Exclusive)	2LP. First time on Vinyl. Embossed Deluxe Gatefold with live photos. Recorded live at Club Soda in Montreal, Canada on September 8, 2001. When headbanger historians look back on the important heavy metal and hard rock bands that were active during the '70s, Mahogany Rush's name doesn't come up nearly as often as Led Zeppelin, Black Sabbath, Deep Purple, Kiss, Van Halen, Judas Priest, Blue Öyster Cult or Aerosmith - and that is regrettable because Frank Marino led one of the '70s' most exciting hard rock/metal outfits. Mahogany Rush is, without question, underrated. Marino's refusal to change with the times is just as well - he is great at what he does, and the singer/guitarist is as inspired on original material as he is on performances of the Zombies' "She's Not There" and two Hendrix classics: "Voodoo Chile (Slight Return)" and "Red House."
